

Jessica Diallo, M.A., NBC-HWC

Senior Project Manager
The Ohio State University Wexner Medical Center
Columbus, Ohio

Jessica Diallo is a seasoned senior project manager at the Government Resource Center at The Ohio State University Wexner Medical Center, bringing a wealth of experience and expertise to her role. Since joining the organization in 2016, she has been instrumental in leading various research and quality improvement projects, notably the Infant Mortality Research Partnership and the Ohio Opportunity Index. With over 15 years of distinguished experience in the public and nonprofit sectors, Jessica's professional journey has been marked by impactful contributions to numerous organizations. Before joining the GRC, she worked at the Huckleberry House, Inc., where she provided crucial crisis services and facilitated connections to community resources for adolescent youth and families. Jessica's passion for education and community engagement led her to The Ohio State University, where she served as an admissions counselor in the undergraduate admissions office. She managed three undergraduate recruitment programs within the Department of Food, Agricultural and Biological Engineering, making a positive impact on student success and opportunities. She earned her academic credentials from The Ohio State University, graduating with a bachelor of science degree and a master of arts degree. Jessica's dedication to promoting health and wellness is evident through her graduate certificate in health and wellness coaching, and she proudly holds the NBC-HWC credential. Jessica is actively involved in various philanthropic endeavors. She currently serves as the executive director of the Westerville Education Foundation. Embracing a holistic approach to well-being, Jessica is also a Mindfulness in Motion facilitator. In her free time, Jessica cherishes moments spent with her twin boys and family, finding joy in their growth and shared experiences. She also enjoys combining her passion for fitness and music by teaching invigorating group fitness and hip-hop cardio classes.
