

Diane R. McNally

Senior Vice President, Senior Consultant and Principal
Segal
New York, New York

Diane R. McNally is a senior vice president, senior consultant and principal in Segal's New York office. With over 30 years of experience, she has vast knowledge in a wide range of insurance products and services and is an expert in Segal's four core products—fiduciary liability insurance, fidelity bonds, employment practice liability insurance and cyberliability insurance. McNally also has a background in professional liability and property and casualty lines. She is a recognized industry leader and has held several underwriting and leadership positions. McNally's experience includes working for Crum & Forster Insurance, Chubb Insurance and OneBeacon Insurance Group. She received her B.S. degree in finance and marketing from La Salle University. McNally holds resident property and casualty broker and agent licenses in the state of New York as well as nonresident licenses in the majority of other states. She is a board member and past president of the New York City Association of Insurance Women.